

COLORADO SPRINGS MINERALOGICAL SOCIETY SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP

The Colorado Springs Mineralogical Society was formed in 1936 as a non-profit organization dedicated to:

- promote and disseminate knowledge of the earth sciences, especially mineralogy, lapidary sciences, and paleontology; and
- encourage the study, collection, and fashioning of rocks and minerals.

The Society holds monthly meetings, an annual show, an annual rock/mineral exchange, sponsors in excess of 25 field trips per year, sponsors two youth groups studying geology (Pebble Pups and Juniors), and publishes an award-winning newsletter (Pick & Pack). The Society also awards a yearly student scholarship in the amount of $1250 (possibility of renewal). You may observe descriptions of club activities at www.csms.us.
